COMMERCE DEPARTMENT TO HELP SHOWCASE U.S. COMPANIES AT MEXICO WIND POWER 2013

WASHINGTON, D.C., March 30, 2012 – The U.S. Department of Commerce’s U.S. Commercial Service is pleased to announce that it has granted Trade Fair Certification status to E.J. Krause & Associates to host the official United States Exhibitor Pavilion at the Mexico WindPower 2013 exhibition, held January 30-31, 2013 in Mexico City, Mexico. Additional information about the show can be found at <http://www.mexicowindpower.com.mx/>.

Mexico WindPower 2013 is Mexico’s largest trade event for wind power design, construction and power distribution. It is also the only wind power event in Mexico which is co-organized and supported by the Mexican Wind Energy Association (AMDEE) and the Global Wind Energy Council (GWEC). The American Wind Energy Association is also a supporting organization. In February 2012, Mexico WindPower was a successful high level conference with sponsors that generated business. Over 25 sponsors and 300 visitors were at the 2012 event. Based on this success, Mexico WindPower 2013 will be a full exhibition with the conference, including a new focus on Latin American sales. The show is growing at a rapid pace due to an increase in wind power construction projects and techniques as well as an increasing focus on green construction methods. The 2013 show is expected to be larger, making this the most significant broad-range wind power design and build showcase in Latin America

Through certification, the U.S. Commercial Service recognizes the capability and exhibition experience of E. J. Krause & Associates to organize a world class event for U.S. exhibitors to showcase products and services for the green energy sector. The show serves as an excellent venue for U.S. companies to establish and expand overseas distribution, generate sales leads, evaluate competitors to identify potential buyers and partners. The U.S. Commercial Service helps U.S. companies establish international business relationships. The agency’s global network includes locations in more than 100 U.S. cities and in American consulates and embassies in 80 countries.
