EJK AND BFE LAUNCH MAJOR EUROPEAN SECURITY CONFERENCE & EXPO IN BRUSSELS

Bethesda, MD, September 12, 2013 – E.J. Krause is pleased to announce a joint venture with Brussels Fairs & Exhibitions (BFE) in organizing Security Europe. The high level two-day conference and showcase will take place on June 4-5, 2014 at the Brussels Expo venue. Both organizers have developed and managed world leading events, including many in the security field. The event has already received support from the World Customs Organization and Information Systems Security Association (ISSA) UK Chapter.

Threats to the security sector have been one of Europe’s biggest vulnerabilities, plaguing safety and economic vitality. The event will focus on protecting the European community, government, and industry against these emerging threats, specifically in 6 key sectors: Cyber Security, Border Protection (human trafficking and crime), Critical Infrastructure and Resilience, Maritime Security, Public Health and Emergency Response. The pace of innovation in these sectors is opening vast market opportunities for the security industry.

Security Europe will bring together security specialists and decision makers from both the private and public sector. The conference and exhibition with its keynotes, workshops, and tabletop exercises will identify the political, regulatory, intelligence, and operational challenges Europe face’s to keep its nations secure and resilient. Solution providers from around the globe will exhibit best of breed technologies, products, and services.

The international two day conference will analyze in-depth the challenges and solutions we are currently facing. Conference presentations will include industry leaders and key policy makers from the Belgian Federal Government, European Commission, European Union, WHO, WCO, NATO, Europol, U.S. Department of Homeland Security, and Scotland Yard.
